The Hawalian Islands May Be Restored to the Queen-The Melilla Forts Practically Besieged-Russians Grateful to America.

Eu Telegraph to The Times. WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 .- (By the Associated Press.) Secretary Gresham, this morning, received a dispatch from United States Minister Baker, who was on the steamer Costa Rica at Amapala when fired on by the Honduras authorities because the captain of the vesse refused to surrender a refugee from Honduras, who was on board as a passenger. The dispatch fully confirms the press reports of the firing on the

While the ship was in the port of Amapala, the authorities demanded the surrender of Polecaro Barilla, who was recently concerned in the revolutionary novement against the Honduras gov ernment. The captain declined to ac ede to the request. After the ship had received her clearance papers, and while she was leaving the port, six or seven shots were fired to bring her to. Minster Baker was on board at the time Whether the shots were fired directly at her or in front of her is not stated.

The matter was discussed at the Cabinet meeting this afternoon. Capt.

Dow, who is command of the Costa Rica, is the same captain who har-bored Barrundia, who was killed on his ship, several years ago, by the Guatemalan authorities. It has been established that a political refugee who is a passenger, as Barilla was, cannot be taken from the ship on which he is. The chance presence of the United States Minister on the vessel, in this case, is not considered to make difference in the diplomatic aspects of the case.

Nothing could be learned of what reply was sent to Minister Baker, or what steps it is proposed to take in the mat-ter. The U.S.S. Alliance sailed yester-day from San Jose to Acajutla, in Sal-vador. Whether this movement was oceasioned by the incident is not stated

This position which the administra ion has taken is likely to give rise to much severe criticism on the ground that it ill-befits this republic to assis in the restoration of a deposed monarch This criticism is expected. The admin istration's only explanation is that it matters not whether the deposed au-thority was a Queen or a President; the authority was unlawfully overthrown by the representatives of the United States and, as a mere matter bstract justice, the wrong should be righted.

ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW. WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—A rumor has been in circulation that the instructions to Minister Willis, who was recently sent to Hawaii, included authority to restore Queen Liliuokalani to her throne, and that Willis had already taken steps in that direction. The rumors probably grew out of the fact that the Cabinet held a lengthy session today, and it was understood that the Hawaiian question was the subject under discussion. In the nature of things, the Minister could not restore the Queen. He can disavow all acts of Minister Stevens, but nothing more. The restoration of the Queen, it is understood, is a matter that this government would leave to the people of the islands and that any

A policy of neutrality, with such protection as is necessary for all parties, seems to be the aim of the administra-tion, and, as this would include the supporters of the Queen as well as those of the provisional government, it may be construed as friendliness to her, and regarded by the opponents of the monarchy as an effort toward restora

High officials in the administration righ officials in the administration said tonight that there was absolutely no authority for the statement that Minister Willis had been instructed to restore the Queen. WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.) Treasury advices say the price of silver continues to advance in London. The price today was 32 9-16d, an advance of 3-16d since yes-

The opinion is expressed here that the cause for the continued rise in silver in London during the past few days was due, in part, to the belief that the government of Russia was contemplat-ing the step of adopting silver as a

By Telegraph to The Times CHICAGO, Nov. 7 .- (By the Asso ciated Press.) Many rallies in many States last night closed a more or less exciting campaign, and this morning voters began registering their will at the polls. These are the first State elections since the present national administration was inaugurated, and the first since the great silver fight in Congress. There has not been sufficient time since the end of that fight to develop its effect on the country at large politically, and statesmen are watching for the results today, with unusual interest, with a view, if possible, of securing an indication of the political They do not hope for more than that, because it is not believed the conditions existing in the campaign just closed are such as to bring the national political questions largely into play except in a few States, and, possibly, in a minor degree, in some others. In Ohio, for instance, the fight partakes largely of a national character, Gov. McKinley, the apostle of protection, being pitted against Neil, who wrote the free-trade plank of the platform on which Cleveland was elected to the Presidency. In Iowa, the same question forms an element in the situation, along with silver and prohibition, and a decided victory for the ever-popular Gov. Boies would no doubt be taken as an indorsement of the Democratic policy as to the tariff, while the election of Jackson would be hailed as a vote for protec-

The Populists in the South and West are building great hopes on the results of the silver fight, and it remains to be seen whether these hopes are well grounded. It also remains to be seen when the votes are counted, what course the silver men in the silver States have taken.

The Most Decisive Victory Since the War.

A Plurality of 60,000, and Two-thirds of the Legislature Republican-The Overwhelming Vote a Surprise. On National Issues

By Telegraph to The Times. COLUMBUS, Nov. 7 .- (By the Associated Press.) With a plurality of 60,000 and two-thirds of both branches of the Legislature, Gov. McKinley has won the most decisive victory recorded in Ohio since the civil war. It has been won on national issues.

It would not have been a surprise tw veeks ago, but, after the action of Congress there seemed to have been such a reaction that the overwhelming vote is a surprise. The Democrats did not alcontest to go by default, but made a most vigorous fight with monious working forces. Ex-Gov. Campbell canvassed the State for Law-rence T. Neal all last week, and the Democratic committee was hopeful after Congress had reached decisive ac-

The weather was pleasant all over the State, and there was a full vote of over 800,000. The decisive results of former years have been because of the small votes, those of one party or the other not turning out, but the voters were out today all over the State, and McKinley has a majority over all with Democratic Prohibition and Populist tickets op-posed to him.

This is the first majority over all that any State candidate has had since Foster's election, just after Garfield's death, in 1881. The Republicans are apprehensive on one part of their vic-tory. The Legislature elected today does not select United States Senators, and it is over two-thirds Republican and it is over two-thirds Republican, the strongest since the war. With such a large working majority they fear such legislation by the city members as may lead to defeat two years hence, when another Legislature is to be selected that will choose Senator Brice's

No more doubt being held at midnight, the headquarters were aban-doned, and meetings were held, nomi-nating McKinley for President in speeches by Senators Boutelle, Dolliver, Hoar, Chairman Dick and others.

Those precincts of the city reported at 8:30 p.m. all showed Republican gains that would indicate McKinley's plurality of 21,000, two years ago, would be doubled, but the rural districts will not show such gains. If the ratio of gains in the cities is kept up, McKinley's plurality will reach 60,000. Republican managers now concede nothing less than double his former plurality. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A Herald bulletin says that a dispatch from Ohio indicates McKinley's election by 30,000. TOLEDO, Nov. 7.-The weather all over Ohio was sunshiny and warm. Here and in the northwestern part of the State the early vote was exceptionally heavy. In many precincts here half of the vote was polled by 9 a.m. "Pleasant weather is favorable to Republican success" has passed into a proverb in Ohio politics, and early advices indicated that it would prove true Returns from three precincts in the city and one in Lucas county show that McKinley is twenty-five ahead of the balance of the ticket. CLEVELAND. Nov. 7.—The voting ommenced at 6 a.m., and by 4 o'clock large vote had been polled. Everyhing passed off quietly. The returns indicate that McKinley will carry Cuyahoga county by at least 4000. Last year Cleveland carried it by

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.-There was a creat crush early at the polls. Two-thirds of the vote was cast by 10 a.m. at many precincts. The Republicans will probably carry the county by an increased majority. The voting through out the State was very heavy. ee hundred precincts give McKinley 48,023, Neal 33,523, the Populist can didate 366, and the Prohibitionist 1896 The same precincts in 1892 gave Harrison, 45,705; Cleveland, 38,932; Populist, 800; Prohibitionist, 1913; showing a Republican gain of 7727. With one-twenty-eighth of the State heard from, McKinley's gain is 2532. At this rate if continued through the remaining precincts, his plurality will reach 70,000. One-tenth of the precincts in Hamilton county show a Republican gain of 952 over 1892. At this rate, the Republican plurality will raise to over 12,000

This appears to carry the entire Republican ticket, including three Senators and ten members of the House of Representatives. THE POSTED.

By Telegraph to The Times. NEW YORK, Nov. 7, 1 a.m.-(By the Associated Press.) One of the most peculiar campaigns in the history of the State closed at sundown today, and it is safe to say that the Democratic managers are not more surprised at the result than the Republicans. The dominant issue in all portions of the State has been ring rule, and the Republicans in New York city, Brooklyn, Albany and Buffalo have been greatly assisted by the organized efforts of independent Democrats.

Isaac H. Maynard, candidate on the Democratic ticket for judge of the Court of Appeals, against whom the court of Appeals, against whom the independent Democrats waged war, is overwhelmingly defeated. The Chicago Times (Dem.) Concedes Repub lican Success-Decisive Gains Over the Last Elections-Altgeld's Bete Nor Winning.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.) The elections today were hotly contested, and the Republicans seemed to have at a late hour towight, the best of it. The Times, a Demo cratic paper, concedes the election of the entire Republican judicial ticket, with one possible exception, and claims no more than five of the county com-missioners inside of the city. Outside of the city, of course, it is Republican.

The judicial ticket heretofore has been on a non-partisan basis, but this year the Democrats broke away and nomi-nated a ticket of their own, and the Republicans seem to have elected every judicial candidate.

The great fight has been over the election of Judge Gary, who presided at the trial of the Anarchists. At the time Goy. Altgeld pardoned the Anar-chists, he made a severe attack upon Gary, and the fight has bitter against the State machine, with the result that Gary seems not only to have polled the full Republican strength, but to have drawn on the Democratic vote as well. The general result shows decisive Republican gains over the Presidential election of a year ago.

The weather was clear and cool, and early indications pointed to a very heavy vote. Rumors were affoat this morning that the Anarchists would make a demon-stration some time during the day, and the police were on the lookout for such a move. A general feeling of nervous expectancy prevailed at the police sta

The morning balloting was unusually heavy. Laboring men were particularly prominent in the early lines at the polls prominent in the early lines at the polls. They seemed to be voting independently, regardless of the resolutions of the labor party opposing Gary.

Returns from more than me-fourth of the State are now and the ratio of increase can hardly be materially changed.

The returns as to Prohibition and Populist votes are scattering, there not being enough to base a good estimate on. The Prohibitionists will probably not poll over 12,000, doubling their vote of last , ar, and the Populists 25,000, showing only a gain of 5000, LOUISVILLE (Ky.,) Nov. 7.—(By the Associated Press.) Election-day opened with a fine, misty rain. The election progressed quietly. The prospect was for an average vote. The colored vote was a little shy. The saloons were tightly closed. An average vote was polled in the central portion of the State in the opening hours.

Advices from the State at large indicate the usual Democratic majority in the Legislature will be slightly inreased. In Western Kentucky, where the Populists were strongest last year, the Democrats have made gains. The results of the election will not be known for several days, but, so far as reports have been received, it is pretty sure that the relative standing of the parties is not changed. The only elections of general interest were for members of the General Assembly, which yotes for United States Senator. The Legis-lature will be Democratic on joint balot about four to one.

A forty-acre improved property in the Cahuenga foothills, close to Sunset boulevard, and commanding an unrivaled

The soil is a rich loam, mixed with pulverized granite, the washing of the adjoining hills, and it is the best for lemon culture to be found in the State of California.

The climate of these foothills is fa-mous for combining all the excellences that are characteristic of our Italy, and without any of the drawbacks that are sometimes found in less-favored loca-

One most important factor is that the location offered is absolutely frostless, according to experience.

Improvements. — There is a neat, comfortable, six-roomed residence, with all the necessary outbuildings, large barn, stable, shade trees and fruit trees of various kinds, giving more than a sufficient supply of delicous fruit for table use. The larger part of the ranch is at present under cultivation for early vegetables, which are shipped to San Francisco, and afford an excellent, steady income.

Water.—There is an abundant and never-failing supply from two sources and a storage reservoir of brick and cement just completed, holding 85,000 gallons.

Price—Unimproved land in the immediate vicinity has been selling lately at $400 per acre, but I offer this forty acres, with all improvements, for $12,500. Will give time on part of the purchase money, at interest, if desired. This offer holds good for a few days only. The property is unincumbered and title perfect.

The Elections.

Our telegraph columns tell the story of yesterday's elections throughout the country, and the story is an interesting one-especially to Republicans. Briefly stated, the apparent results at this writing are as follows:

In Ohio, McKinley, with a plura lity 60,000 to 75,000, and two-thirds of both branches of the Legislature, has won the most decisive victory since the civil war, and the battle has been won on national issues.

In New York Flower concedes the State to the Republicans by about 15, -000, while the Tribune claims that the State has gone Republican by 40,000 majority.

In Massachusetts the indications are that the Republican candidate will have 25,000 majority.

In Iowa the latest returns encourage the hope of a 30,000 plurality for the Republicans. In Pennsylvania returns from every county so far received show Republican gains. In Kansas the most populous county elected the entire Republican ticket, with two small exceptions. In Nebraska the race between the Republicans and the Populists is a close one, the Democrats not being in it. In Chicago, Gary, the Republican candidate for Superior Judge upon whom Gov. Altgeld made a fight, is running ahead of his ticket. In South Dakota a Republican victory appears to be assured Virginia has gone Democratic, which knocks out the Populis ts. New Jersey comes to the front in great shape, with a Republican Legislature. Other late returns are equally encouraging, and will be found in full among our dispatches.

Taken altogether, even the most dved-in-the-wool Democrat cannot deny that "It was a glorious victory."

But this is only the beginning.

McKinley for 1896.

The political portents of the times when read in the light of yesterday's elections, give a sure indication of the complete overthrow of the National Democratic party, in 1896. The refluent tide has set in, and nothing short of the impossible intervention of Proviidence can avert the stranding of that badly-managed craft. Democracy, in the shoal water into which Capt. Cleveland has recklessly run her.

The President's second administration has already fallen so far short of success that the country will surely refuse at the end of his term, to give his party a further lease of power.

The Democratic Congress that has just adjourned its extra session proved itself incompetent to deal successfully with the large and vital problems coming before it for solution. The fierce and hollow anti-tariff cry that took the country off its feet in 1892, and carried Grover Cleveland into the White House, has borne its inevitable fruit; and the deluded masses, who, in an evil hour. listened to that false cry, are now re duced to the dire necessity of eating of the bitter apples of the desert which the Democratic party has coolly spread

The result of yesterday's elections bears an unmistakable meaning. The revolt has begun in earnest. The treof Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts has made which conceals his political nerves. Had the election of yesterday been a Presidential one, and the chief issue the administration on trial before the whole country, there is no room to and published from day to day dur- doubt that the party of Mr. Cleveland would have been overthrown and into a single issue, convenient for ref- routed-infantry, cavalry and artillery, sappers, miners and pontoniers, foragers, scouts, guerrillas, office-holders and all. The result in Ohio, where Goy. Mcinley is re-elected by a magnificent plurality, points with almost unerring certainty to the choice of the foremost Republican leader of his time as nominee of the Republicans in 1896. He made his recent fight squarely on the protection issue, and he has won decisively. He is the author of the existing tariff law, the foremost champion of the protective idea, which Henry Clay called "the American system." this important matter, are requested He is great of brain, loyal of heart, and possesses a lovable and magnetic personality. He should have been the Republican standard-bearer in 1892; he surely will be in 1896, if the dictates of a wise party expediency, the impera-tive requirements of party success, and the unmistakable will of the Republican masses are heard and heeded.

> The Work of the Associated Charities We are glad to note the progress that is being made in the work of fully perfecting the organization of the Associated Charities in Los Angeles, for the experience of other cities which have tested this plan of systematic benevolence has been such as tu prove onclusively that the work of helping the poor and dependent is far more ation than it could be without.

The object of all true charity is to assist its recipients to become self-sup-porting as far as may be, and "co-operation far the sake of curing distress" is the impelling motive of all benevo lent associations throughout Christeneffective in its results through co-oper-

The question is asked by those not fully understanding the purpose of this new organization of Associated Charities, "Wherein does it differ from the benevolent associations already established in our midst, and are all other charitable societies to be subject to By no means! It is the principle of the Associated Charities that the organization shall not interfere with the work of other existing beneficial so-cieties, or trench in any manner upon the individuality of co-operating organizations. It is simply a co-operative system to prevent fraud, to aid in disovering worthy objects of charity, to guard against an overlapping of aid be stowed, and for devising the best means for helping the dependent classes to beome permanently self-supporting and self-respecting. It resembles a family, each member having his own purse, and to whom applications for relief are Each member co-operates with every other member, and never gives without making a full report of the giving, so that the other members of the family shall not bestow aid where effectual assistance has already been rendered. This plan of Associated Charities has been most successfully inaugurated in San Francisco, and the method has been in operation since 1888. During the year 1891 thirty-one families of that city, comprising 149 individuals, were brought, through the systematic help-giver, to a condition of self-support. Two hundred and ten persons were provided with work. A w was opened; and in this employment was given at different times to 2337 nen who worked willingly and gladly. These Associated Charities made thorough investigation wherever charity was sought, of the cases seeking relief, and each case was registered. Provident schemes were developed and carried out, and great care was taken that charity should not be unworthy be-stowed, and that no case of worthy charity brought to their notice should be neglected. Phillips Brooks once truly said, "Not until you make men self-reliant, intelligent and fond of struggle, fonder of struggle than mere help, not until then have you relieved poverty.' To give such relief as this to poverty is the aim of our Associated Charities. But to confirmed paupers, to worthless tramps who are such from choice, and to the improvident and shiftless they would rightfully refuse aid. The of between benevolence and the impostor; to see that the worthy and helples poor are cared for, and that all the funds dispensed are placed where most needed, and to discourage that promiscuous giving which so often prevails in communities where the individual is deceived and imposed upon by false pleas which appeal to his sympathies. They would clothe charity in all helpfulness and so give that manhood and womanhood should not be degraded through a needless dependence. Such an organization is worthy of the age in which we live; it is worthy of the prompt and liberal support of our people, who may rely upon the good men and women who are heading the movement to devote every dollar contributed to the best possible use, and

When those Buckeye Republicans get their blood up, something has to give way. This time it was Mr. Cleveland's

Those Toy Republics.

Another little "two for a nickel"
Spanish-American "republic" has taken the liberty of firing upon the American flag. This sort of thing is becoming somewhat monotonous. These little countries change their governments so often that there ought to be a monthly guide-book published to show who is The president of today is likely to be the refugee of tomorrow, and the dictator of day after tomorrow. If a dozen or so of these small countries be amalgamated, and could good system of public schools intro-duced—and annexation brought about they might in time make one, respectable State. Meantime, the best thing that they can hope for under present onditions is to secure as president a despot, who is a well-meaning man, and at the same time strong enough to keep other would-be despots from hatching out a monthly revolution. When it comes to the question of protectorates, there seems to be more need about this time for an American protectorate in Central America than in the Hawaiian Islands.

As to the personal insult to our flag, while it is probably the ill-considered act of some person "clothed in a little brief authority," it will not do to let such actions go unpunished, because, in that case, the Stars and Stripes would be even less respected in foreign ports than it is at present. Perhaps, when we shall have added a few more Oregons to our navy, such instances as these will not so frequently happen.

A San Francisco Daniel.

It is interesting and encouraging to ccasionally see a lawyer or a judge break through the meshes of red tape which surround all legal proceedings owadays and make a departure which savors of common sense, even though it may not be authorized by any of the legal luminaries who have spread their wisdom over the thousands of pages which adorn the walls of our law libraries.

Such a decision is that of Judge Dangerfield of the San Francisco Superior Court, who has adopted a rule to the effect that a person charged with crime who pleads guilty shall not suffer more than half the punishment authorized by law in such cases. This rule also applies to capital crimes.

The judge says that in murder cases he will not inflict a sentence more severe than life imprisonment upon a defendant who pleads guilty. Judge Dangerfield says he made this rule in orde to save expense to the State and prevent the miscarriage of justice.

There is certainly a considerable amount of common sense in this new leparture, although it is doubtful whether it is just the right kind of a thing to do in cold-blooded murder eases, where the evidence is convinc ing. At least, it would not be if justice were sure, but in San Francisco it is very seldom that a murderer reaches he noose, or even gets a life sentence If such a rule as this were adopted in Los. Angeles, we should probably be able to dispense with two-thirds of our Superior judges. Marshal Gard has announced, through the press, that he is about to take the field against Kid the Apache, with a force consisting of two men, one of whom has the distinguished honor of personal acquaintance with the Indian murderer, and is also described as a "reformed outlaw, who has been thought to be dead." There are rewards aggregating $10,000 for the cap ture of the Kid, but Marshal Gard says that his object in undertaking the expedition is to rid the people of the Southwest of a pest. The marshal then proceeds to give a full outline of his of campaign, which appears to us to be a very unwise proceeding on his part, as Kid is an educated Indian who reads the Territorial papers, which are brought to him occasionally by his friends. In hunting a wily Indian like the Kid it is best not to let him know that you are after him.

The San Diego and Phoenix Railroad. of which Mr. Carlson is president, and which most of our readers have heard before, in the shape of press dispatches, has made another important forward move. That is to say, it has not moved any nearer to Phoenix than the point which it reached some time ago, about three miles from San Diego, but it has filed in the office of the County Recorder a bond mortgage of the Metropolitan Trust Company of New York, as trustees, to cover of $4,000,000 twenty-year, cent., interest-bearing bonds, limited in issue to $20,000 per mile for each mile of railroad constructed. At this rate of progress the San Diego and Phoenix Railroad ought to reach Yuma long be fore Southern California becomes a

The addition of ten men to the po lice force is variously regarded by cit-izens, some of whom approve of the action of the Council, while others think that the addition was unnecessary Among the latter are not found many whose duties lead them late at night to outlying parts of the city. Los Angeles covers a very large extent of territory, in proportion to its population, and one may travel for weeks at night without meeting a policeman in the suburban districts of the city. Considering the large number of strangers without any known means of existence dition of a few men to the police force at least during the winter months would seem to be a proper precaution.

Paris is to have a grand World's Exposition in 1900, but it will keep her busy to equal, much less out-rival, the big Columbian Exposition. Chicago's fair was great in every way, and the dawn of 1900 will still find the world marveling at its vastness.

The whole State of Ohio is one big, usty roar this morning, with the excep tion of that small part of it occupied by the clan Cleveland. They are keep ing up a large, expressive silence, and wondering what hit them.

The outrageous proceedings at the polls in Camden, N. J., yesterday, where the list of wounded reminds one of a railroad accident, furnish a striking omment on the dangers which sur

the respectable classes shirk their un

AT THE PLAYHOUSES. LOS ANGELES THEATER .- The people who went to the Los Angeles Theater night saw a play written by a man who has undoubted dramatic geuius, both as a playwright and as a player. A writer may easily pick flaws in the play of "Friends," which Edwin Milton Royle presented to us last evening, but it is only the usual rift in the lute; the ordinary fly in the ointment. Still one cannot but wish that, having done so well; having created a play that is bright, witty, strongly dramatic, full of tender passages, with tears in them, counterbalanced by others that sparkle and bubbe with mirth, the author had not cleared up one or two points that are left in impenetrable and quite unnecessary obscurity—as, for instance, the connection of John Paden, Sr., "a business man," not a lawyer nor a detective, to all appearances, with the task of discovering in America Marguerite Otto, the presumable love child of a dissolute German nobleman, but, as is finally developed, his legitimate daughter. There are other equally lame places in the drama's make-up, and the first act is reminiscent of another famous play. Yet, when all this is said, it seems hypercritical, for Mr. Royle's creation is tense with interest and as bright as Still one cannot but wish that, having done iniscent of another famous play. Yet, when all this is said, it seems hypercritical, for Mr. Royle's creation is tense with interest, and as bright as a fiash light. Its characters are consistent with the unities, and clean cut. Its situations are, although at times strongly melodramatic, very clever, and follow one another with a swing and dash that keeps the audlence alert and intent on each denouement. "Friends" is the story of two young geniuses, one a "litterary feller." who writes clever, but unsalable verse; the other, a musician—the two living in humble lodgings, with but one suit of clothes between them, and both as it transpires, in love with the same young woman, who is an opera singer, and, later on, turns out to be the daughter of the nobleman of Germany. This young woman, in addition to being doted on by the two impecuations, but brainy, young fellows, first mentioned, is also hankered after, with much warmth and a large amount of villainy, by an impressario by the name of Harold Hunting. pressario by the name of Harold Hunting She has also, as she presumes, a rea father, one Hans Otto (but, really, he is only her stepfather.) who looks upon the rosy not wisely, but altogether too much for his own good, and, as a consequence, for his own good, and, as a consequence, has a case of delirium tremens in the third act that is powerfully well simulated by the actor in the role, E. D. Lyons. He is a dissolute old chap, but has a streak of good in him, as is well brought out. The central idea of the play is the abiding love and loyalty of the two friends, Adrian Karje, the planist (Lucius Henderson.) and John Paden, Jr., a modern poet (Mr. Royle)—a love which is full of noble and manly sacrifices that call out plaudits in profus but which is, perhaps, as rare in real life as most of the other things depicted on the stage. As has already been said, the play sparkles with wit and repartee, and is thoroughly enjoyable and entertaining in thoroughly detail.

The company is strong and well balanced, Mr. Royle being exceptionally effective in his frank naturalness. Lucius Henderson is a pianist of rare skill, playing classical compositions with the touch and dexterity of a Joseffy, but inclined, as an actor, to rant and over act his role. Selina Fetter Royle, the Marguerite Otto of the cast, is a handsome woman, with a fine stage presence and much emotional power, and Henry Bergman is an excellent villain. The others of the cast are equal to the demands, and the keen interest, rapturous applause and enthustastic curtain calls of last evening are strong evidence that the attraction, has, as a whole, caught the town. every detail.

"Friends" will be presented but two more evenings, and the opportunity to see it should not be missed. It is the comedydrama of sunshine which follows the cloud of melodrama lately overcasting this dramatic firmament.

DEMOCRATIC DAYS.

We Have Cheapness It is True, But Lack Money With Which to Buy.

The Democratic days have come,
The saddest of the age,
When countless spindles cease to hum,
And written on the page
Of history there seem to be
The dark blue lines of pain:

These sad days come again. The poor man's blanket is as cheap As it was pledged of old! As it was piedged of old!
And wool from backs of honest sheep.
At bed-rock price is sold.
All things are going cheap as smoke,
And some a grade below,
But does this help a man who's broke?

But does this help a man who's broke? That's what I'd like to know. The dinner pail that sold last year
For twenty cents or less
Can now be purchased full of beer
For about that price, I guess;
And even the McKinley bill
Has lost lits power to rob;
The wheels of industry are still
And no one has a job.

Yes, Democratic days are here— The days we read about— And everything is cheap, my dear, Without a single doubt. The blanket and the stovepipe hat Have had a wondrous fall. But human labor—think of that— Is cheaper than them all.

I always thought it would be fun
If I might live to see
The days of Jeftersonian,
And such simplicity;
But when I hear the hungry horde
Cry out it makes me sick—
And in my heart I cry: "O, Lord, Don't spread it on too thick!"

Cheap food and clothing suits me when I have the cash for such,
But if I have no money, then,
It aggravates me much;
And as for "good old days," ah—hem—
It fairly makes me cough—
I think the less we have of them
The better we are off.

The shooting occurred at the intersection of East Park and C streets, Liebe being on his way home. People were attracted to the scene of the tragedy by the reports of the pistol, which was discharged only twice. Liebe was taken to his home, where a physician was summoned, and the body of Hess was conveyed to the morgue.

From what can be learned, it is supposed the trouble was brought about by the arrest of Hess, some time ago, on a charge of embezzlement, preferred by Liebe. Hess, who was the husband of a niece of Liebe's, was formerly in of a niece of Liebe's, was formerly in the employ of Liebe as a clerk in the bank, and while thus employed, he was accused by Liebe of abstracting money from the till. He was arrested and placed in jail, where he remained until a few days ago, when he suc-ceeded in furnishing bonds pending his trial.

FRESH LITERATURE.

THE LAND OF POCO TIEMPO. By Charles F. Lummis. Illustrated. (New York: Charles Scribner's Sons.) Charles F. Lummis has become

known in the literary world as a brilliant writer of both prose and verse. The several books that he has published have been written, and their interest supplied, from sources not hitherto drawn upon very largely by our American writers of fiction. The strange corners of our country have been vis-ited by the author, and his versatile pen has been swift to portray them in vivid light. The volume before us is made up of delighful sketches of New Mexican life—fugitive glimpses of "The Land of Pretty Soon." He makes the reader breathe the very atmosphere of that strange quarter of the New World. We share its life, its legends and the wild, free life of its people; take a glimpse at its "City in the Sky;" study the costumes, the religion and the character of its people, and become, with the author's help, acquainted with "the cities that were forgotten." The book turns for us a new page in the life of pen has been swift to portray them in cities that were forgotten." The book turns for us a new page in the life of this continent, and turns it with the hand of a master. Among its contents may be found "The Land of Poco Tiempo," "Lo, Who is Not Poor," The City in the Sky," "The Penitent Brothers," "The Chase of the Chongo," "The Wanderers of Cochiti," "The Apache Warrior," "On the trail of the Renegades," "New Mexican Folk Song," "A Day of the Saints," and "The Cities That Were Forgotten." The great Columbian Exposition is now but a memory, but it is a memory in which this country and the age will long take pride. To tell the story of its marvelous achievements and wonderful displays is no light task. To set it before the world as it was, making it pass before the mind's eye with every portion illustrated, while its story is told in pages of interesting text, is what the author of this work has succeeded in accomplishing. He has made of it a living memory which the country will delight in preserving. It is a work of 594 large pages, handsomely bound, and illustrated, and printed on the best of paper. The type used is large and clear, and all parts of the work are harmoniously complete.

Pease Osborne. (Cincinnati; Robert Clarke & Co.)

The author makes a radical departure from the beaten path of economics in the scope which he gives his subject. He has divided his subject carefully, and treats it thoroughly and in a very clear, terse and readable style. The author's views are conservative and sound. The chapter on the nature and uses of money is especially valuable. This book deserves and demands a careful examination at the hands of the educators of our country. A better one to put into the hands of young men could scarcely be found, and its plain, simple style, no less than its strong teaching, eminently fits it for use as a text-book.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co. For Sale by W. B. Hardy, Los Angeles.)

This work is something more than the history of an individual or family, and it presents, rather, a vivid picture of bygone days, a history of the past century, the perusal of which casts its spell over the present. Would we know something of the life of our forefathers in New England, the hardships and struggles, and the indomitable courage and patriotism of those early days, we shall find it written in the pages of this interesting volume. The problems of that day were different from ours; but the courage required to face them was the same. The men in their homespun, and the women in their "camblit" cloaks lived and loved much as we do. And so the bit of the old life which is stored in this book makes a link in the unending chain of life, which may be studied with profit.

THE SPIRITUAL LIFE. Studies of Devotion and Worship. (Boston: George H. Ellis, Publisher.)

In character and treatment this book is unique. Its authors are capable and interesting: it presents in a popular way men and movements whose history to the average reader is little known, yet always a matter of charm and curlosity. And in spirit the volume is suggestive and helpful. It is of universal religion, not of sect or dogma. It is of the strife for the better, the struggle for inward blessedness. Many lands and ages are made to contribute struggle for inward blessedness. Many lands and ages are made to contribute to its purpose, and in its biographical passages and simple stories of great religious ideas the glimpses it affords of eager lives lived in battle with things that hold back, yet victorious in inward power, are vital in their capacity to encourage and make strong.

The world reverences genius and delights to do it honor. And when genius is supplemented by our highest ideal of manhood and genuine worth, then to reverence is added the warmer feeling of friendship and affection. Into the hearts of Americans at large but few have entered more fully than the great actor whose life is portrayed in this volume. This biography will be especially acceptable, because it rests upon intimate personal knowledge of the subject and upon information furnished the author by Booth himself. Of it, the writer says: "Booth was aware that I intended to write his life, and he knew that I had followed his career with sympathy and studious attention. The story is that of a dreamer, who, nevertheless, threw himself into the strife of action; a simple gentleman, who was often perplayed and bewildered award.

POINTS FOR PHILOSOPHERS.

(From Our Regular New York Fashion Correspondent.)

Back and front views of an elegant opera cloak are shown herewith. Of course, very few of us can afford a costly garment for use only in passing from our carriage (if we have one) to the theater, and then to utilize it only as a background for ourselves as it lies across the chair, or as an occasional protection from draughts. But some modification of it can be made, even though it leaves out all costly materials, the carriage and even the theater-box, which will bring it within the means of small purses, and still leave a handsome and dressy garment.

As pictured, the wrap is of heavy, silver-gray, broche silk, trimmed with black velvet and a cache-point of steel deep bias fold of the velvet. half-way up on either side, opening is bound with velvet ther garnished with the cacl It is open in front, as shown, and both sides are trimmed like the edges of the slits. He also says that gold is only valuable because it is rare, that it is not worth as much as lead in commerce, and that, so far as use goes, brass is worth its weight in gold and more. This will not change a girl's mind about gold a bit, but if you can't have gold buttons on your coat, why, you can remember what the inventor says and feel more satisfied with brass. FLORETTE.

BEAUTY OF LATER YEARS.

(From Our Regular New York Fashion Correspondent.) The average school girl is as reckless in the use of the curling iron as is her already "out" sister. A favorite fash-ion with the little maids just now is a short, thick fringe across the fore-head. This is kept fluffy by constant washing, and it, and all the rest of the hair is made wavy by unsparing use of the tongs, the hair being waved close to the scalp and curled at the ends. It is then combed out and carried back to a Dutch roll that is low and broad. When the hair is very thick it is braided in two, and the braids are laid low on the head in a broad knot that reaches out a little back of the ears. It must be said that this way of dressing the hair is becoming to a young face, and has an air, since the fringe is very short, of being simple, and even student-like, but the excessive use of tongs is to be deplored. If the hair is very long, or too thick to roll easily, it is allowed to hang in one or two plaits, which are braided very low at the nape of the neck, that the curve of the head may show. To hold the braid well down to the nape of the neck, that short under hair is often divided and drawn over the braid at its start, this arrangement being concealed by fastening a bow of ribbon on the hair.

The other dress is for a twelve-year-old, or younger, and is made of pale-blue China silk, trimmed with baby ribbon in the same shade. The skirt is very full, is untrimmed, and is sewed to the square yoke. The latter is trimmed, front and back, with five rows of the ribbon, and a similar number ornaments the pretty double epaulettes. The collar has four rows, and each of the cuffs two groups each, with the same number. This dress is so easily made, and is possible in so wide a variety of materials, that it should commend itself to mothers who do the home dressmaking. FLORETTE.

ONE JOHN WEBB.

Again Airing His Family Affairs in the Papers.

One John Webb, known in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento as a concocter of fairy tales and pre-posterous yarns about his family affairs, has broken out again, this time confiding his troubles to a San Fran-cisco Examiner reporter to the extent of something over a column.

Webb claims that he arrived in Los cisco Examiner reporter to the extent of something over a column.

Webb claims that he arrived in Los Angeles three years ago and that he was lured into marrying Miss Amarylis Stowe. He says the girl pretended to fall in love with him and Mrs. Stowe, the girl's mother, told him before the marriage that she would make him a present of $15,000, but that he declined the money, though he married Amy. Previous to that time he had roomed at the Stowe house, and had met a Mr. Crooke there who was first represented as a cousin and then as an ingrate without any claims of relationship, and who was later driven away by Mrs. Stowe.

Webb says that he soon found that Mrs. Stowe, instead of having $15,000 to give her son-in-law, was in reality in need of money herself. He helped her to lift several mortgages and pay notes and other similar evidences of indebtedness until the entire amount footed up about $7000. When he had no more to spend he noticed, so he says, a great change in his wife's conduct. She was no longer affectionate, and he felt that he was the victim of heartless deception. He says he ordered W. F. Whittaker out of the house one day because of some discoveries he (Webb) Ead made.

Later he went to Sacramento. After he had been there a few weeks his wife came to see him and induced him to give her $840 to pay some debts, and, he says, he has not seen her from that day to this. He hunted her in San Francisco, with the aid of a detective, and came across the mother-in-law, who would not let him see the daughter. He delivered his uitimatum then, and said he must either have his wife or his money back. So far he has received neither. On the contrary, his wife got a divorce from him by default, and, Webb says, she then married Frank Crooke. Mrs. Stowe has some rouble in a will contest at Kansas City, and deeded her property to her new son-in-law, Crooke, who now refuses to deed it back. The first son-in-law, Webb, says that if his successor gives up anything to the old lady he, the same John Webb, will try to reco cover that $7000, or know the reason why.

The story, as printed in the Examiner, caused considerable amusement among those who are familiar with the history of Webb and his wife in this city, and it was generally believed to be either an attempt to blackmail his mother-in-law, Mrs. Stowe, or to induce his wife to return to him. It is a natter of common netwer that West. had no money; in fact, was unable to support himself without assistance from nis mother-in-law, and, even after mak ing the most serious charges against his wife, continually followed her about his wife, continually followed her about, trying to induce her to live with him. He attempted, on several occasions, to have his family affairs written up in the local papers, but his stories were so "fishy" that no notice was taken of them, and the whole outfit finally left Los Angeles for the northern part of the State, where the woes of the ill-assorted pair have been periodically aired in the papers, the information being given by the alleged abused husband.

The Police Court mill ground very slowly yesterday. In the afternoon Jus-tice Austin adjourned session in his department, in order to attend the funeral of Judge Wade, and nothing was ment from some paper, the name of which he did not give, in which it was said that it was a notorious fact that some of the saloons were kept open on Sunday in direct violation of the city ordinance. were sentenced. Henry Demming was also held to answer on two charges of burglary, and Frank Ross was treated in a like manner upon his ex-amination.

THE EAST SIDE.

Small Fire-The River Bed Being Cleared

There was a pleasant gathering of riends at the home of Mrs. E. C. Nev ton on Griffin avenue Monday evening The affair was given in honor of the eighteenth birthday of Ed Newton, and a large number of his friends, both old and young, were present. Music, dancing and various games were indulged in, and the crowning feature of the evening's entertainment was a substantial supper.

evening's entertainment was a substantial supper.

A number of young ladies, headed by Miss Maud Dart and Miss Millie Kingsley, are busy arranging for a social dance to come off one week from tonight at B. of L. F. Hall, opposite the San Fernando-street depot. It is to be distinctly a railroad party, the friends of most of the young ladies being in the employ of either the Southern Pacific or electric companies. The river bottom is becoming cleared of tramps, most of the "unemployed" who have been encamped there having gone on their way in search of work. Yesterday there were only about thirty-five men in the willows, and they were getting ready to leave on a freight train during the night. Most of the party had money in small amounts, and none of them were seen begging. They seemed to be honest, and said they were bound for San Francisco.

A runaway on Monday caused the wreck of a cart and the spilling of its occupants in a ditch near the park reservoir. Two men were in charge of the rig, and they were thrown into a barbed wire fence and quite badly scratched. One was a man named Dunn from over in the city, but his companion was too drunk to tell his name, or to know if he was seriously hurt or not.

George Stockwell left yesterday afternoon for San Francisco to attend the

George Stockwell left yesterday afternoon for San Francisco to attend the funeral of W. B. Lyons, late grand secretary of the I.O.O.F. of this State. Mr. Stockwell expects to return on Friday or Saturday

An alarm of fire was turned in at 6:15 last evening from box No. 7, corner of Bowney avenue and Johnson street. The blaze was caused by the upsetting of a lamp on some bedclothes in the house of Mr. Embody, who lives at the corner of Griffin and Downey avenues. The fire was extinguished with a blanket before any damage was done, and, though the department responded promptly to the call, its services were not needed. One of Mr. Embody's daughters was sick in the bed when the clothes caught fire, and her sister, who was with her at the time, had the hair singed from her head while assisting her father to smother the flames. The damage will not amount altogether to more than $25.

The electric company has, for the time being, at least, abandoned work on Hawkins street, which was being leveled and put in shape again after the tearing up of the unused track. Residents are much put out for fear the street will not now be made passable before the time of the winter rains.

The Ladies'_Ald Society of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church is to give an entertainment and concert Friday evening. As their own church is still undergoing repairs, and is considerably torn up, the ladies have secured the use of the Congregational Church for the occasion.

Charles Walters, engineer at the Downey-avenue power-house, has been off duty for several days on account of a severe attack of the grip and Substitute Engineer Hamilton has been running the shift in his stead. Mr. Walters was yesterday able to be out in a carriage, and will doubtless be back at work in a few days more.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY. Ex-Judge O'Melveny in a Very Critical

Ex-Judge H. K. S. O'Melveny, one of the oldest and most respected members of the local bar, was stricken down by an attack of apoplexy while standing in front of Gardner's restaurant on North Spring street yesterday morning. He was at once conveyed to his residence, No. 634 South Pearl street, where he was attended by the family physician; but up to a late hour last night he was still in an unconscious condition, and grave doubts were ex-pressed as to the chances for his re-

Strohm was, in attendance during a part of the session. Reporters were not admitted, but it, was afterward learned that only a small portion of the discussion was over the price at which it is proposed to sell the plant of the company to the city.

The talk was for the most part in reference to what the company had to sell. Councilman Nickell told a story which he believed was applicable to the case. It was about a man who went out fishing, and who, on his return, said he had caught a 250-pound fish. "Let us see your fish," asked a bystander.

This, Councilman Nickell said, was about what the Council wanted to do now. It wanted to see what property 'the company had to sell.

The representatives of the company urged that it would take a long time to prepare a list of the items of property belonging to the company.

The councilmen argued that before they could submit any proposition of this kind to the people they must know, and must have it shown to them in such a manner that they could show to the people what it was proposed to buy.

Mr. Peirce declared positively that although "Jayhawker" had been connected with the first deal, he had nothing to do with the proposition now under consideration.

Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food-imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasin to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.

HERE is a difference between tweedle de and tweedle

dum. There is a difference between buying cloaks here and elsewhere. Our way is one price, plain figures, money refunded on unsatisfactory purchases. We cut, fit and baste capes free for all who buy their material here. We will sell you a cape of our own manufacture that is fuller in the skirt and better made than a factory cape and we will charge you about one-half the price, not only this, we will show you a larger assortment, you will find the material is better, and the best of all they will fit you better. These are facts not for advertising purposes, but to secure more business. We are able to show five times as many capes, pieces cloth and fancy cloakings as any other house. We have a new lot of fur edgings with plain and fancy headings for cape, cloak and dress trimmings. Fur edging is the best of all trimmings this season. Our assortment is complete. When it comes to Fur Capes it is the largest we ever carried and as we did not carry over a single fur garment you are sure of getting the latest styles free from moths or other imperfections. We can afford to sell Fur Capes less than a regular cloak house; our expenses are less. The one thing we impress upon everybody is One Price, Plain Figures, no Discount and Money Refunded on Unsatisfactory Purchases. We do business upon a square basis. We sell goods at a moderate and just profit and we don't expect or want trade upon any other basis. We work for confidence and good will; this brings business, and business brings profit. offer our entire stock of Zephyrs for 3 cents a lap, any kind or any amount so long as it lasts. In the Accounts of ex-Indian Agent Belknap.

The Amount of $713.21 Alleged to Be Du the Government by the Former Tule River Indian Agent.

United States District-Attorney Denis yesterday filed a complaint in the Cir-cuit Court against Corington G. Belkhap, ex-Indian agent at the Tule River Reservation for the recovery of $731.21 alleged to be due the government. Henry Mentz, R. Porter Putnam and John W. Miller as bondsmen for Belknap, are made parties to the defense, and suit also entered against them in-dividually for the full amount.

It is alleged that Belknap is short in his accounts as audited by the Treasury Department, and that he unlawfully appropriated the above stated amount to his own use. He has been called upon for a settlement, but has refused to make good the deficiency. His bondsmen have been likewise notified, but have accorded the government no satisfaction and the suit is brought to the payment of the amount to be due the government. aimed to be due the government.

After mentioning the fact that Cor-Ington G. Belknap was duly and reg-ularly appointed as Indian agent by the President of the United States, the complaint goes on to state that while incumbent of that office Belknap was empowered to receive and disburse complaint goes on to state that while incumbent of that office Belknap was empowered to receive and disburse large sums of money on behalf of the government. In the fulfillment of his duty as such Indian agent is was necessary that he render reports to the auditor of the treasury and the complaint further alleges the final auditing of his account shows that when he turned the office over to his successor there was a shortage of $731.21, which is now sought to be recovered from himself and bondsmen. As the securhimself and bondsmen. As the secur-ity given aggregates $15,000, and the bondsmen are known to be men of means, there is little doubt that if the ernment wins its suit against Belk-the full amount claimed, together interest and costs, will be col-

A lady who gave no name other than that of Smith, and who expressed herself as desirous that her name should not be mentioned in the papers, was more or less hurt as the result of an accident at Broadway and Fourth streets at about noon yesterday. She had just stepped from a cable car, and as near as can be learned, was conversing with some one, when she was struck by a Pico Helghts electric cargoing in the opposite direction. She was thrown to the pavement and badly bruised. The lady was taken into the office of Veterinary Surgeon Blackington, where she was attended until a carriage could take her away. From remarks made by her, it was inferred that she was not a resident of this city. She appeared to be inclined to lay the blame to herself rather than the street railway company.

THE COURTS.

Business Suspended Out of Respect to the Late Judge Wade. Owing to the fact that all the courtrooms were closed as a tribute of re-spect to the deceased Judge Wade, and most of the county officials and members of the bar were in attendance at the funeral, the Courthouse was prac-tically deserted yesterday, the only legal business transacted being the filing of a few complaints in civil actions, with the County Clerk. The continuance of all cases which had been set for Tuesday until today will necessarily entail some extra work in the various departments of the Superior Court, but as will be seen from a glance at today's calendar, there should be no cause for inconvenience on the part of either litigants or officers on that account

The New Plumbing Ordinance. The New Plumbing Ordinance.

The repeal of the present plumbing ordinance at Monday's session of the City Council, when such action is approved by the Mayor, will leave the city without any ordinance governing plumbing. Pending the passage of the new ordinance, it is expected the plumbing of new buildings will be under the supervision of the plumbing inspector.

It has been proposed by some of the city officials that the new ordinance be drafted in a form as brief as practicable, and that it be cumbered up as little as possible. It is further proposed that considerable power as to the system of plumbing any building be delegated to the plumbing inspector, but that the parties intending to put in such plumbing shall in all cases have the right to appeal from the decision of the inspector to the Board of Health.

REDITORS' SALE

HE stock of goods of the CITY OF PARIS DRY GOODS STORE is being rapidly sold, the quality of the goods and the PRICES they are being sold at have, and are, telling the story, the people of this section of the State are getting the benefit of this forced sale. Goods are being sold entirely regardless of value or cost of manufacture; the only legitimate and honest judges of this fact are the people who have purchased goods at this sale. All others are and must be simply influenced by personal ill feelings or selfish motives.

The creditors will continue to sell this large and finely assorted stock until-all the goods are sold, and the CASH realized, no matter how much or how little that may be the community does not care or worry itself about that, the only question is how CHEAPLY are the goods sold. The verdict rests with them. The immense crowd of purchasers that have been in daily attendance gives answer. One fact is admitted, that the City of Paris Dry Goods Store has always carried the largest and finest line of goods in Los Angeles. NO TRASH. NO AUCTION JOB LOTS, but the choicest goods that are manufactured in America and Europe; this is the class of goods which is now being sold for less than other merchants pay for their goods to manufacturers.

You save from 40 to 75 per cent. by buying now and at the Creditors' Sale. Cold facts cannot be talked down; compare these Goods and Prices with others; that tells the tale.

A SURE-ENOUGH BEAR.

A SURE-ENOUGH BEAR.

A Fight With a Grizzly-Charlie Freeman's Close Call—Un Casidor Muette.

A week ago yesterday Charlie Freeman of Inglewood received a letter from Don Amerigido Rocha, who owns a cattle ranch in the Tehachepi Mountains, near El Tejon, in which the writer stated that a large grizzly bear had killed several of his cattle, and that he wanted some help in hunting and slaying him. He also stated that he had tried to poison the bear, but that he was an old, cunning fellow—un-casidor, he called him, meaning thereby a bear who will not touch meat unless killed by himself. As young Freeman had hunted on these mountains a year he was an old, cunning fellow—un casidor, he called him, meaning thereby a bear who will not touch meat unless killed by himself. As young Freeman had hunted on these mountains a year ago with Don Ameriglido, and had promised to return whenever bears were to be found there, he at once made his preparations, and started for the camp in the mountains, where he arrived on Tuesday last. Wednesday and Thursday were passed in fruitless search for bruin, and, although his trail was frequently struck, nothing rewarded the hunters on these days but a lynx and two wild cats. On Friday morning the hunters decided to separate, so as to cover more ground. Early in the forenoon young Freeman came upon a large California lion, which he wounded in the leg at the first shot, when it turned and made for him. An angry lion in a hurry, jumping toward you in great bounds is not a very easy target to hit, and it was not until he was within a few yards of the hunter that a well-aimed shot laid him low. The noise of the firing brought Senor Rocha upon the scene; and, after skinning the lion, and hanging his hide on a tree, where they could find it on their way back to camp, the hunters decided to keep together for the rest of the day, and it was well for them that they so decided. Starting again, they had proceeded about a mile when they struck a fresh trail of the bear they were after. The trail led them along the face of the mountain, where the underbrush was very heavy. As the hunters followed on the brush became so thick it was almost impassable. The bear, being a powerful and heavy brute, had crushed down the brush and broken the large branches along the route, making a passage, through which the hunters scrambled with difficulty. Suddenly, and without any warning, an enormous grizzly bear arose from his lair and confronted the men who had dared to beard him in his den. As he was within ten paces of the hunters when he showed himself, no time was lost in preliminary sparring on either side. With a loud roar he sprang at the hunte pounds.

Senor Don Amerigido Rocha came to town yesterday to lay in a supply of ammunition, and was seen by a Times reporter, to whom he gave his account of the killing of the grizzly, a translation of which is as follows: "When the bear came out of his nest, within thirty feet of us, with a roar like a lion, I thought that he looked as big as an elephant, and I would have given ten of my best steers to have had him ten paces farther away from us, so as to have given us more shots at him. I had never been so close to a mad grizzly before, and I knew that it was Senor Freeman's first big bear, and I was afraid that he might be rattled. Any hesitancy, a step in retreat, or bad shooting meant a terrible death to both of us. I had only time to say: "Stand fast, Don Carlos," but he was as cool as a coumber, and as he raised his rifle, he replied: "Shoot straight, man." So, shoulder to shoulder, we stood, unflinchingly, and in less than two seconds had put six bullets into Mr. Bear. But the bullets did not stop him. On he came, plunging through the brush, and, when he was within ten feet of us, Don Carlos took careful aim and put a bullet through his backbone, and that laid him out. When he fell he was so close to us that the bloody froth from his mouth spattered my overalls. I tell you I never want to get into such close quarters with a grizzly again; and I am very glad that our antagonist is now 'un casidor muerte,' instead of being engaged in cracking our bones on

S. P. Double Tracked on which are Alameda Street

From San Fernando to Commercial in One Day.

The Criswalter Tract Likely to Be Traversed Next.

The Local Passenger Association's Chances of Survival-Southern Pacific Pay Car-General, Local and Personal.

The Southern Pacific Company has hit its Los Angeles opponents below the belt. It may not be a fair way of fighting, but marquis of raspberry rules do not prevail in a contest between a railroad corporation and a sleeping city, when the possession of a street is at stake. The Times yesterday morning related the fact that a large force of men, estimated to be hundreds in number, had been collected at the San Fernando station, with tools and materials by the carload, to lay a second track on Alameda street, between San Fernando and Commercial streets. The men were regular section gangs, brought from all the branches, and were familiar with the work of laying tracks. At 5 o'clock in the morning, the big force began the work of tearing up the tracks at Commercial street, where a connection was put in for the new line.

g. No serious opposition was made, W. H. Workman set out to get hijunction to stop the work when too late. Ex-councilman Collins an injunction prohibiting the com-ouilding below Commercial street. A COUNCILMAN OFFERED FIGHT, Councilman Strohm, chairman of the Board of Public Works, says he knew of the railroad company's intentions at 5 p.m. Monday, and undertook measures toward stopping het work, but In Vain.
His efforts consisted in posting Chief of, Police Gass on the situation, and that official detailed patrolmen to watch for the work to begin, with the object of stopping work, if possible, Mr. Muir is said to have heard of this, and called on Mr. Strohm to explain that the company only intended to exercise its rights under the franchise. The Councilman said that if he had an opinion from City Attorney McFerjand to that effect, he would desist from further interference. Mr. Muir found the attorney, and returned with a "Themas Strohm, Esq.: I have examined the old franchise of the Southern Pacific?Rallroad, and am of the opinion that they have the right to double-track from Commecial to San Fernando street. I think there is an opinion on file to that effect which I gave to the last Council. Yours, etc.,

"Then Mr. Strohm wanted to see a permit from the Street Superintendent, which Mr. Mulr is hereby granted permission to teir fip Alameda, and it read:

"Mr. Mulr is hereby granted permission to teir fip Alameda street, from Commercial to the viaduct at College street, for the purpose of laying railroad trass."

"Street Superintendent."

Then Councilman Strohm thew up his hands.

WHAT THE OFFICIALS SAY. WHAT THE OFFICIALS SAY.

H. Hawgood, resident engineer of the Southern Pacific Company here, was seen at his office, during the afternoon, and asked about the matter. He said that his department had been ordered to do the work, and it was accordingly done. The men employed were 130 in number, and had been brought in from the various branches to do the work. Everything was prepared beforehand to expedite the work, which it was necessary to do quickly, so as not block trains or other traffic on the street. He claimed that the work did not begin any, or not much, earlier than the usual hour, but it had been rushed, not so much to get ahead of injunctions, as to accommodate the public by removing the street obstructions as soon as possible. Superintendent J. A. Muir was found in his office, busy and amiable as ever, but an every complacent smile seemed to filt over his features when the Alameda street

"Oh, we have no franchise for that," said Superintendent Muir, in holy horror. "But, if you were to get your tracks down there some night or holiday, it would be a hard matter to get them up again, would in not!"

"Oh, but, it is absurd, and I, for one, would, not countenance any such move. Why, the city would tear it, up as fast as we could put it down. No, I give you my word, that won't be attempted,"
Several days' time will now be required to surface and ballast the new track. When it is finally in good condition, it will greatly facilitate the running of trains between the San Fernando and Arcade depois. SCRAP HEAP.

On Saturday forenoon a number of On Saturday forenoon a number of citizens interested met at the Hawley Block and discussed various plans for the museum building. They decided to unite with the Horticultural Society in the petitions which will be circulated to raise funds for a building. But while these gentlemen and ladies are striving to build a museum here the Santa Barbara county exhibit at the Midwinter Fair grows less and less probable. The supervisors can promise nothing definite, and it would seem better for the museum projectors to postpone their subscription lists for a few months at least, and allow the Midwinter Fair Committee the field to raise money for a building. Many who will subscribe for one will not subscribe for both, at least not within a who will subscribe for one will not subscribe for both, at least not within a short time, and at the present time we can do the county in general and Santa Barabara in particular far more good with an attractive exhibit in a building of its own, in a prominent place in Golden City of the Golden West, than a museum on the corner of every city block would accomplish. At least that is the way many citizens look on the matter. The museum project is a is the way many citizens look on the matter. The museum project is a good idea, and will benefit Santa Barbara, but our main source of advertising for 1894 will be the Midwinter Fair, and when that is over a museum fund could no doubt be easily raised.

Testimonials:

The following testimonials speak for themselves:

Morris Poultry Cure Co. Dear Sirs:—We have thoroughly tested your wonderful cure for poultry, and find it will do all that you claim. It will not only prevent diseased all kinds and keep fowls healthy. but will cure swelled head, roup and scaly legs. Whet we receiv d the first order of your Poultry Powders we had several fowls very sick in our coops. We administered your cure, and in a few days they were all well.

See the second of Deservedly Popular.

Morris Poultry Cure Co. DEAR SIRS:—I am glad to testify to the merits of your deservedly popular Poultry Cure. One box of the remedy, given according to your printed directions, saved the lives of a dozen turkeys (six weeks old) when they were very near unto death with "sore head." They are now in prime condition for Thanksgiving.

Very truly,

Morris Poultry Cure Co. DEAR Sirs:—Allow me to congratulate you on your wonderful remedy. My poultry all got better at once. I have not one sick chicken out of the hirty I had when I sent to you for it; they all are cured. I wish you would send me appound can and oblige.

Yours respectfully.

The Paper Better Than Ever!

A department particularly adapted to the peculiar character of our Southern California agricultural and horticultaral interests, carefully prepared by a practical and educated farmer, will, in the future, be a valuable feature of the SATURDAY TIMES AND WEEKELY MIRBOR, and will also appear in the daily issue each Saturday. A Southern California News Page is also published weekly. These features, with the variety, reliability and general excellence of the other departments, render this paper infinitely superior as a general family newspaper to any weekly publication in the Southwest.

The Annual Election of Officers of Co. B, N. G. C.

Lively Contest Over the Captaincy-Points About Hotels, Open and Closed-Personal Notes and Brevities.

The annual election of officers of Co. B, N.G.C., was held Monday evening at the armory. There was a full turnout of members, and a spirited contest ensued in the matter of electing a captain to succeed N. S. Bangham, who resigned that position, which he has filled so acceptably, some months ago, about the time he decided to join the ranks of the Benedicts. For captain, J. G. Rossiter nominated Second Lieutenant P. J. Cook. W. E.

For captain, J. G. Rossiter nominated Second Lieutenant P. J. Cook. W. E. Darracott was nominated by Sergt. Coleman. Out of a total of 35 votes cast, Cook received 19 and Darracott 15. On motion, Mr. Cook 'was chosen captain by unanimous vote.

Corp. McGowan was the only nominee for the office of first lieutenant, and was elected by acclamation.

For second lieutenant, the names of Private Helss, Quartermaster Sergeant Cole, Sergt. Case, Private Luken and Corp. Collingwood were placed in nomination. On the second ballot Collingwood received a majority of the votes polled, and was declared unanimously elected. The captain has the appointment of the remaining officers.

Col. William G. Schrieber of Los Angeles, in behalf of the company, presented ex-Captain Bangham with a beautiful set of silverware.

An invitation was read from Co. D. of Pomona, asking the company to participate in field-day exercises on Thanksgiving day at that place. Three companies from Los Angeles will be present, together with several companies from the Ninth Regiment. No action was taken, but the invitation will probably be accepted.

POMONA.

The Electric Railways Regarded as an Assured Success.

The electric railways between Po-mona and Claremont, Ontario and Chino seem to be an assured success. On Monday evening, Prof. Baldwin of Pomona College appeared before the Board of Trade and said that he was Pomona College appeared before the Board of Trade and said that he was prepared to say that as soon as the town would see that the property-owners along the right-of-way would contribute a certain amount to the company, that the road would be built and in operation within ninety days. He said that a capitalist had been secured who was willing and anxious to build the road. That the capitalist was no new hand at building electric railways, and that he was sure that the road could really be completed in thirty days after the contracts were signed. The announcement was received with a good deal of surprise and more pleasure. The president at once appointed a committee of seven men to go to work and see the property-owners, and get them to contribute 65 cents a front foot for all property located on the line of the road. The company proposes to keep the road sprinkled on each side, and proposes to make not less than tentrips each way every day. One can see at a glance that the roads will be of immense benefit to this city. The big sugar factory at Chino will be brought almost to the doors of the business men, as the fare will be only 5 cents. Ontario and Pomona will be brought into closer business relations with each other, and the big college at Claremont will also be brought to within ten minutes' ride of Pomona. The cars are to will also be brought to within ten min utes' ride of Pomona. The cars are to cost from $6000 to $8000 each, and are to be run by'a storage battery. The com pany proposes to run also to Lordsburg if the same assistance can be secured out that way. It is said that there is no doubt but that the property-owner will jump at the chance of having their property enhanced in value. It was also stated that the property-owners between this place and Claremont had already practically agreed to the proposition. The route from this place Chino will be out Holt avenue to Cen tral, thence down Central avenue t Chino. To Ontario, the road would simply be extended out on Holt avenu simply be extended out on Holt avenue from Central, straight into Ontario. The citizens are very glad of the flattering prospects, and will at once do all in their power to push the matter to completion. Prof. Baldwin, Phil Stein, R. S. Bassett, F. B. King, E. P. Shaw, C. Hanson and Richard Gird were appointed a committee of seven to solicit the property-owners along the line of the road.

The board also entered into a lengthy discussion about the Midwinter Fair and the citrus fair. It was finally deand the citrus fair. It was finally decided that it was the sense of the board that the citrus fair he held in San Francisco instead of Los Angeles, as the board was of the opinion that the citizens would not contribute to the two separate exhibits, especially as the matter came so close on to the World's Fair at Chicago. The secretary was instructed to telegraph Mr. Gird in San Francisco to that effect.

POMONA BREVITIES. Mrs. N. M. Hisey of Los Angeles is in Pomona, and will spend the winter here. She is the guest of Mmes. Sturges and Gale.

The unexpected tax of $13,000 to pay the bonds of the Palomares school district, together with the stringency in money matters, will probably delay the putting down of bituminous rock for street paving until next year. The sewer system will also have to wait, but as these matters are all unexpected, no one ought to complain. The present Council will see that, the work is dane just as soon-as the property-owners are eased up a little, and they will have to stand the mud on Second street only one more winter. A sewer system is what is needed first, anyway. The Justice's Court was occupied yesterday with a peculiar trial. Mary McNally had Mike Maron arrested on a charge of seduction. After keeping the District Attorney all day, it was finally proven that Mike was the one who was seduced, and the District-Attorney moved that the defendant be discharged, which was promptly done. The Orange-growers' Union in this place is ahead of any other locality in Southern California in its completeness. It is followed by an organization of the lemon-growers, and the prospects are that the deciduous fruit-growers will do the same. A new arrival from Iowa was shown some dried peaches yesterday, and he said that the people had to pay 18 cents per pound for them. The grower can only get 6 cents, which leaves a nice little stake for the enterprising commission-man. The growers have enough of such things as this, and if other sections will do as well as Ontario, there will soon be no commission-men in the markets.

Ontario's celebrated Euclid avenue is a remarkable example of what can be done in Southern California in a few years. The magnificent palms and peppers are less than 10 years old, and there are some as fine specimens as can be found anywhere. John S. Calkins sowed the seed for the trees just ten years ago. The avenue has 176 acres of land in it, and its beauty and celebrated street car line are the wonder of the tenderfeet.

ORANGE, LEMON AND OLIVE LAND,

ORANGE, LEMON AND OLIVE LAND,

And Orange and Lemon Trees on Five and Ten Years' Time.

This land is located at Mentone, and Redlands, and includes water piped to each ten-acre tract. Mentone lands grow the finest fruits, of nearly all kinds, grown in the world. Some of this winter's orange crop is already sold at $3.50 per box, and some sold last spring at $4 per box from trees planted only four years. Choice pieces can still be bought at $250 to $300 per acre. I will furnish the choicest trees in the market and plant the land at $50 per acre. Will only require one-third cash down, balance in five equal annual payments. Have very choice land one mile from center of Redlands, only $150 cash payment down and no farther payment for ten years, at 6½ per cent. interest. I have the sale of three choice groves at Mentone, four at Crafton and six at Redlands, all in bearing, at prices ranging from $50 to $1000 per acre, according to age and location.

If you want pure water, pure air, good train service on two railroads, good socicty, cheap ice, electric lights in your house as cheap as tallow candles, go to Mentone, where a case of malaria, rheumatism, asthma or throat trouble is never seen, except in print. For further particulars apply to W. P. McIntosh, general

The stock of the

"Bon Marche,"

Purchased by us at Sheriff's Sale, is now on our counters and offered to you at one-third its real value. It comprises the very finest of French Novelty Silks, Silk gauzes, Grenadines, plain silks of all kinds, black and colored Dress Goods, Novelty Dress Patterns which they sold as high as $100 apiece. Velvets in Freize and Novelty effects worth from $3 to $7 yard, are sold at $1 and $1.50 a yard. Trimmings of all kinds from this stock are offered at about 25c on the dollar of their value. We are not trying to make capital out of this purchase; we are giving it to you as we purchased it. Jacquard Grenadines worth $2 to $4'a yard are selling at 75 to $1.25. If there is a judge of values in fine dress fabrics that will tell you that these are not the greatest bargains ever offered, tell him with our compliments he don't know his business. This stock was gathered from the leading modistes of San Francisco, their exclusive importations, and by them sold or consigned to the Bon Marche. We are selling these goods to convince you we are right in price, and the value is unheard of. There is a fine selection left.
